SECTION 2 - BP 2510 PARTICIPATION IN LOCAL DECISION-MAKING & GOVERNANCE STRUCTURE

The Board is the ultimate decision-maker in those areas assigned to it by state and federal laws and regulations. In executing that responsibility, the Board is committed to its obligation to ensure that appropriate members of the District participate in developing recommended policies for Board action and administrative procedures for CEO action under which the District is governed and administered.

Each of the following shall participate as required by law in the decision-making processes of the District:

Academic Senate(s) (Title 5, Sections 53200-53206.) The Board or its designees will consult collegially with the Academic Senate, as duly constituted with respect to academic and professional matters, as defined by law. A. Participatory Governance Structure

SECTION 3 - INTEGRATED CONSULTATION COUNCIL (ICC)

A. Definition and Role

The Integrated Consultation Council (ICC) is IVC's central participatory governance and institutional planning committee. ICC provides recommendations based on input from all constituent groups and communicates those recommendations to all constituents in four areas: (1) strategic planning; (2) policy, procedure review, and recommendation; (3) problem management; and (4) campus communication. ICC's role is to ensure that all constituents participate in decision-making and to forward suggestions, ideas, and needs within an inclusive and respectful communication environment. The right to participate includes the responsibility to do so in a manner that moves beyond the specific needs of individuals to meet the needs of IVC. By embracing participatory decision-making, we exemplify effective participation and therefore strengthen this essential core value at our institution. Effective participation is at the foundation for continuous quality improvement, which is required by accreditation standards and important for institutions of higher education to sustain a standard of excellence. Therefore, beyond compliance, participatory planning and decision-making is a means by which we can best deliver to our students the quality education they deserve. The following charts describe the ICC's structure and how accreditation oversight is integrated into IVC's institutional planning and governance structure. ICC will implement a philosophy of collegial consultation. The actions of ICC will be guided by the operating principles set forth herein and will be based on IVC's Comprehensive Master Plan, accreditation standards, governing Board goals, constituency representative input, and IVC's existing policies and administrative procedures.

B. Philosophy and Function

Collegial consultation is a method of college management in which decision-makers, whether with primary or delegated authority, are committed to involving affected constituencies in decisions as much as possible. Collegial consultation is based on individuals having a voice in decisions that affect them. Carefully planned, instituted, and evaluated, collegial consultation is designed to lead to effective participation in decision making that unites constituencies, produces an improved college environment and draws upon the strength of diversity. It includes the structures and processes for decision-making that engage students, staff, faculty and administrators in making and implementing decisions that further the primary mission of the college to foster excellence in education. Each constituent group is appropriately charged and empowered; its members carefully selected and processes clearly structured. The structures and processes for collegial consultation vary according to task.

For collegial consultation to work, there must exist a covenant of mutual trust, honesty, open agendas, equity, and respect for differing views. Essential to maintaining this covenant is open communication and feedback from all constituencies. All parties must commit to, and take responsibility for, fostering and maintaining an environment in which collegial consultation can occur, which entails being well informed about problems that may arise. Collegial consultation is founded on building community. By living, learning, and teaching the principles of community, we serve as a catalyst for individuals and groups to:

- communicate with authenticity.
- deal with difficult problems.
- welcome and affirm diversity.
- bridge differences with integrity.
- interact with respect.

In our decision-making processes, members of the constituent groups must commit to participating in the implementation of decisions made through collegial consultation processes and to working within legal and pragmatic parameters of their positions. The partners in collegial consultation acknowledge that traditional and legally mandated roles continue within the context of collegial consultation. The Integrated Consultation Council shall provide a forum where representatives from all segments of the college will bring problems of collegewide interest.

Location: Administration Board Room (Bldg. 10); Virtual Meetings also available

Meetings are subject to change due to other institutional commitments. Special meetings, as defined by the Brown Act, may be called as needed.

Conduct

Meetings of the Integrated Consultation Council will be conducted in a flexible manner which promotes open discussions and the full participation of all members and considers the nature of the agenda items.

Agendas

Items may be placed on the agenda in the following ways:

- Items for discussion will usually be determined at the close of the previous ICC meeting.
- An ICC member may request that an item be placed on the agenda by submitting it to the President's Office at least one week prior to the next regularly scheduled meeting.
- At the outset of a meeting, an ICC member may request the inclusion of an item for discussion. The item will be placed last on the agenda unless otherwise agreed to by the members present. If there is not sufficient time to discuss the item, it will be carried over to the next agenda or a special meeting may be called.
- Members of IVC campus community may request that an item of college concern be placed on the agenda by contacting their representative at least seven (7) working days prior to the next regularly scheduled meeting.

ICC trichairs will be responsible for developing and approving the agendas. The Superintendent/President, Academic Senate President and classified representative will review all requests for agenda items with ICC. All agenda items will be given time allotment appropriate for the item.

F. Interest-Based Problem Solving and Consensus

All ICC action will be made primarily through interest-based problem solving. The intent of interest-based problem solving is to reach consensus through discussion with all present members supporting a decision even if they do not view it as the ideal decision. Consensus is demonstrated by a majority vote in this manner: ICC trichairs will ask for a vote of those who agree; a vote of those who object; and a vote of those who abstain. In the context of the ICC, interest-based problem solving shall be defined as the right of any member to prevent the passage of a motion by voting against it if they cannot support that decision.

G. Communications

All agendas will be distributed to ICC members at least 72 hours in advance per the Brown Act. Committee chairs will email ICC members a week before the meeting to solicit agenda items. The agenda will then be created by classified staff supporting the committee and will include time, location, and details of the meetings to all constituents. The minutes from the previous meeting and agendas will be attached for members to review prior to each meeting. The supporting classified staff is responsible for posting agenda, meeting minutes, and any pertinent documents onto BoardDocs. Note: There will be annual committee assessments on an annual basis and biannual evaluations on the overall effectiveness of the committee. These assessments and biannual evaluations will be distributed by the Office of Institutional Research and will be evaluated by the Office of Institutional Effectiveness. The findings of the assessments and evaluations will be presented at the end of each academic year.

H. Committees

ICC is responsible for developing, implementing, and monitoring the Integrated Planning Model in alignment with IVC's Vision 2030 Comprehensive Master Plan. IVC's Superintendent/President will abide by the Integrated Planning Model and processes and procedures established by ICC and will not make any edits or alterations unless there are extenuating circumstances that would support these changes for the betterment of all faculty, staff, administrators, and most importantly, our students.

I. Institutional Effectiveness and Strategic Planning

IVC's commitment to student success will be in alignment with all institutional priorities and state and nationwide initiatives. Institutional Effectiveness and Strategic Planning will ensure that all internal processes are in connection with state legislature and accrediting processes. The Accrediting Commission of Community and Junior Colleges (ACCJC) agency requires that we have a robust institution-wide planning and evaluation process that informs continuous improvements and the ways in which the institution includes all strategic planning on campus. IVC's institutional effectiveness integrated model was created to capture, organize, and report the alignment with various requirements.

SECTION 6 - PROGRAM REVIEW PROCESS

A. Program Review Overview

The purpose of the IVC's program review process is to review, analyze, and assess the content, currency, direction and quality of all programs and services as an investment in IVC's future. The intent of the program review process is to promote student-centered educational and service excellence by engaging all college units in self-examination and self-improvement. The review process is to be broad based, accessible, and integrated into other collegewide processes, such as accreditation, budgeting, and planning. The information gathered and analyzed in program review is an integral part in planning, decision-making, personnel development, program improvement, and optimal utilization of IVC's budgetary resources.

Each area's final report should be designed to give insight into the past, present and future through the following three broad questions:

- What has the program accomplished in the past year?
- Where is the program now?
- Where should the program go from here?

Specifically, each unit's program review will:

- ensure that all college programs and services are functioning in support of the college's student-centered mission.
- ensure that all program goals, objectives, and resource requests are aligned with one or more institutional goals and objectives from the California Community College's Chancellors Office Vision for Success.
- promote steady improvement in the quality and currency of all college programs and services using SMART goals.
- provide a body of evidence of institutional effectiveness at all levels for accreditation.
- support the integration of the IVC's mission in all programs and services.
- facilitate self-analysis of each unit's functions and its relationship to college goals and the internal and external conditions that impact its operation.
- note areas of strength and acknowledge accomplishments.
- note areas in need of improvement to alert IVC to concerns/issues in time for effective solutions; and
- provide a vehicle for data-based, timely, collegial consultation for budget consideration to support development and improvement of all college programs and services.

The PRC will periodically amend the list of departments, programs, and units that are responsible for conducting program review

B. Program Review Components

The components that comprise an area's program review generally include the following:

- statistical data that describes the program in terms of student contact, learning outcomes and staff assigned to the unit.
- SLO/SAO & PLO summary – an explanation of how Service-Learning Outcome (SLO) assessment or Service Area Outcomes (SAOs) led planning efforts and any information as to how assessment drove the Program Learning Outcomes (PLOs) for IVC.
- alignment with Vision for Success goals; and
- survey results to indicate the “customer” degree of satisfaction with the program or service.

C. Additional Components

- The comprehensive program review includes self-study of the program/unit that addresses its long-term goals, functions and services with evidence supporting one or more institutional goal; and an evaluation of academic/student data and/or survey results.
- The self-study should include recommendations for improvement as well as a work plan that outlines resources required for implementation based upon analysis of data and identifies one or more institutional goals the resource supports.
- Service areas complete a SWOT analysis as part of the self-study; academic areas complete a thorough analysis of enrollment, student outcomes, and linkage to existing college plans.

*Note: Please refer to the specific guidelines on each comprehensive program review for additional details regarding the specific components of academic and non-academic units.

D. Budget Enhancement Process

Prioritization & Funding

Program reviews serve as a basis for annual prioritization, funding, and budget planning. Each program/unit will submit its completed review with any budget enhancement requests to be incorporated into the college’s annual budget process.

The Offices of Institutional Research and Institutional Effectiveness shall maintain copies of all program review reports as a permanent archive and will provide data as needed for all program review reports.

SECTION 10 - GOVERNANCE EVALUATION AND SURVEY

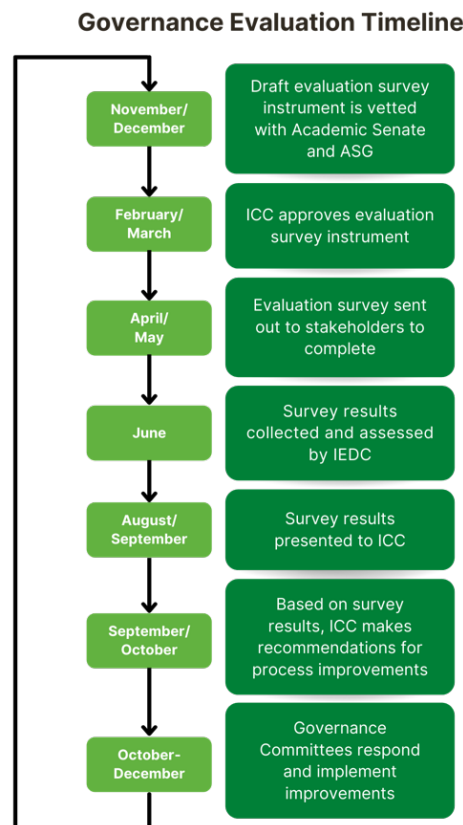

A. Committee Evaluation Form

At IVC, each standing committee will submit a committee evaluation form. The purpose of the committee evaluation is to identify the purpose of the committee and the major milestones and benchmarks that have been evaluated toward the end of the year to ensure that the committees are effective and meeting the institutional priorities of the campus.

B. Governance Evaluation Survey

At the end of each academic term, in addition to each committee evaluation, there will be a governance evaluation survey issued for all constituents. The survey will serve to evaluate the effectiveness of the governance processes toward supporting academic quality and accomplishing the mission. The results of the evaluation survey will be reviewed by ICC and used for planning improvements to governance processes. The survey has four major components: 1) general information, 2) integration, 3) culture, and 4) operations of governance structure. The Offices of Institutional Effectiveness and Research will prepare the survey in Spring of the given year. The survey will be developed by the Institutional Effectiveness and Development Committee and final input will be provided by ICC. Once final voting has taken place, the survey will be distributed collegewide. The results will be presented the following academic year.
